

JESSICA HITTE

Jessica Hitte is a talented artist who holds the distinction of being the first signee with Writing Rounds Music. She is known for effortlessly merging diverse genres, crafting a sound that is uniquely her own and allowing her music to serve as a powerful testimony to God's unconditional love for His people. From bold and defiant anthems against the enemy to comforting and relatable messages that offer encouragement in every season of life, her music truly reflects her vibrant personality... full of compassion, wit, boldness, and a hint of attitude.

A graduate of Lee University in Cleveland, Tennessee, Jessica earned her degree in Education while ministering with the Lee University Campus Choir. It was during this time that she experienced a profound encounter with the Holy Spirit, igniting a desire to share her own journey of faith through songwriting. Over the past decade she has released and been featured on multiple projects, as well as collaborated with renowned artists such as Maverick City, Nicole and David Binion, Todd Dulaney, Brandon Lake, Naomi Raine, and many more. Her music is a blend of gospel, R&B, and pop, creating a unique sound that resonates with audiences of all ages.

Jessica is a proud mother to her teenage daughter, Zoey, and calls Cleveland, Tennessee, her home. In addition to her growing music career, she co-manages Writing Rounds, LLC, and A&A Production Studios alongside her partner and producer, LeBron Arnwine. Jessica's ultimate mission is to use her music to remind individuals of their God-given authority, inherent worth, and irreplaceable value in the eyes of their Creator.
